

CBS just can't do family values. The MTV produced Super Bowl half-time show was a disgrace. The Super Bowl is something the whole family watches and is not an appropriate place for Janet Jackson to have her costume ripped away to reveal her breast. The entire half time belonged in a rapper bar and not on national TV. The kind of music played would not be allowed in most American homes.